CHURCH STREET HILL

Experience the epitome of modern Melbourne living at this urban retreat on the edge of the city's most cosmopolitan village.

Church Street Hill achieves the perfect blend of sophistication and simplicity through cutting edge architecture and landscape design. Fresh, exciting, desirable and urbane, these apartments form the archetypal city residence: a sanctuary from busy lives and an affordable slice of luxury for people on the go.

CONTEMPORARY CALM

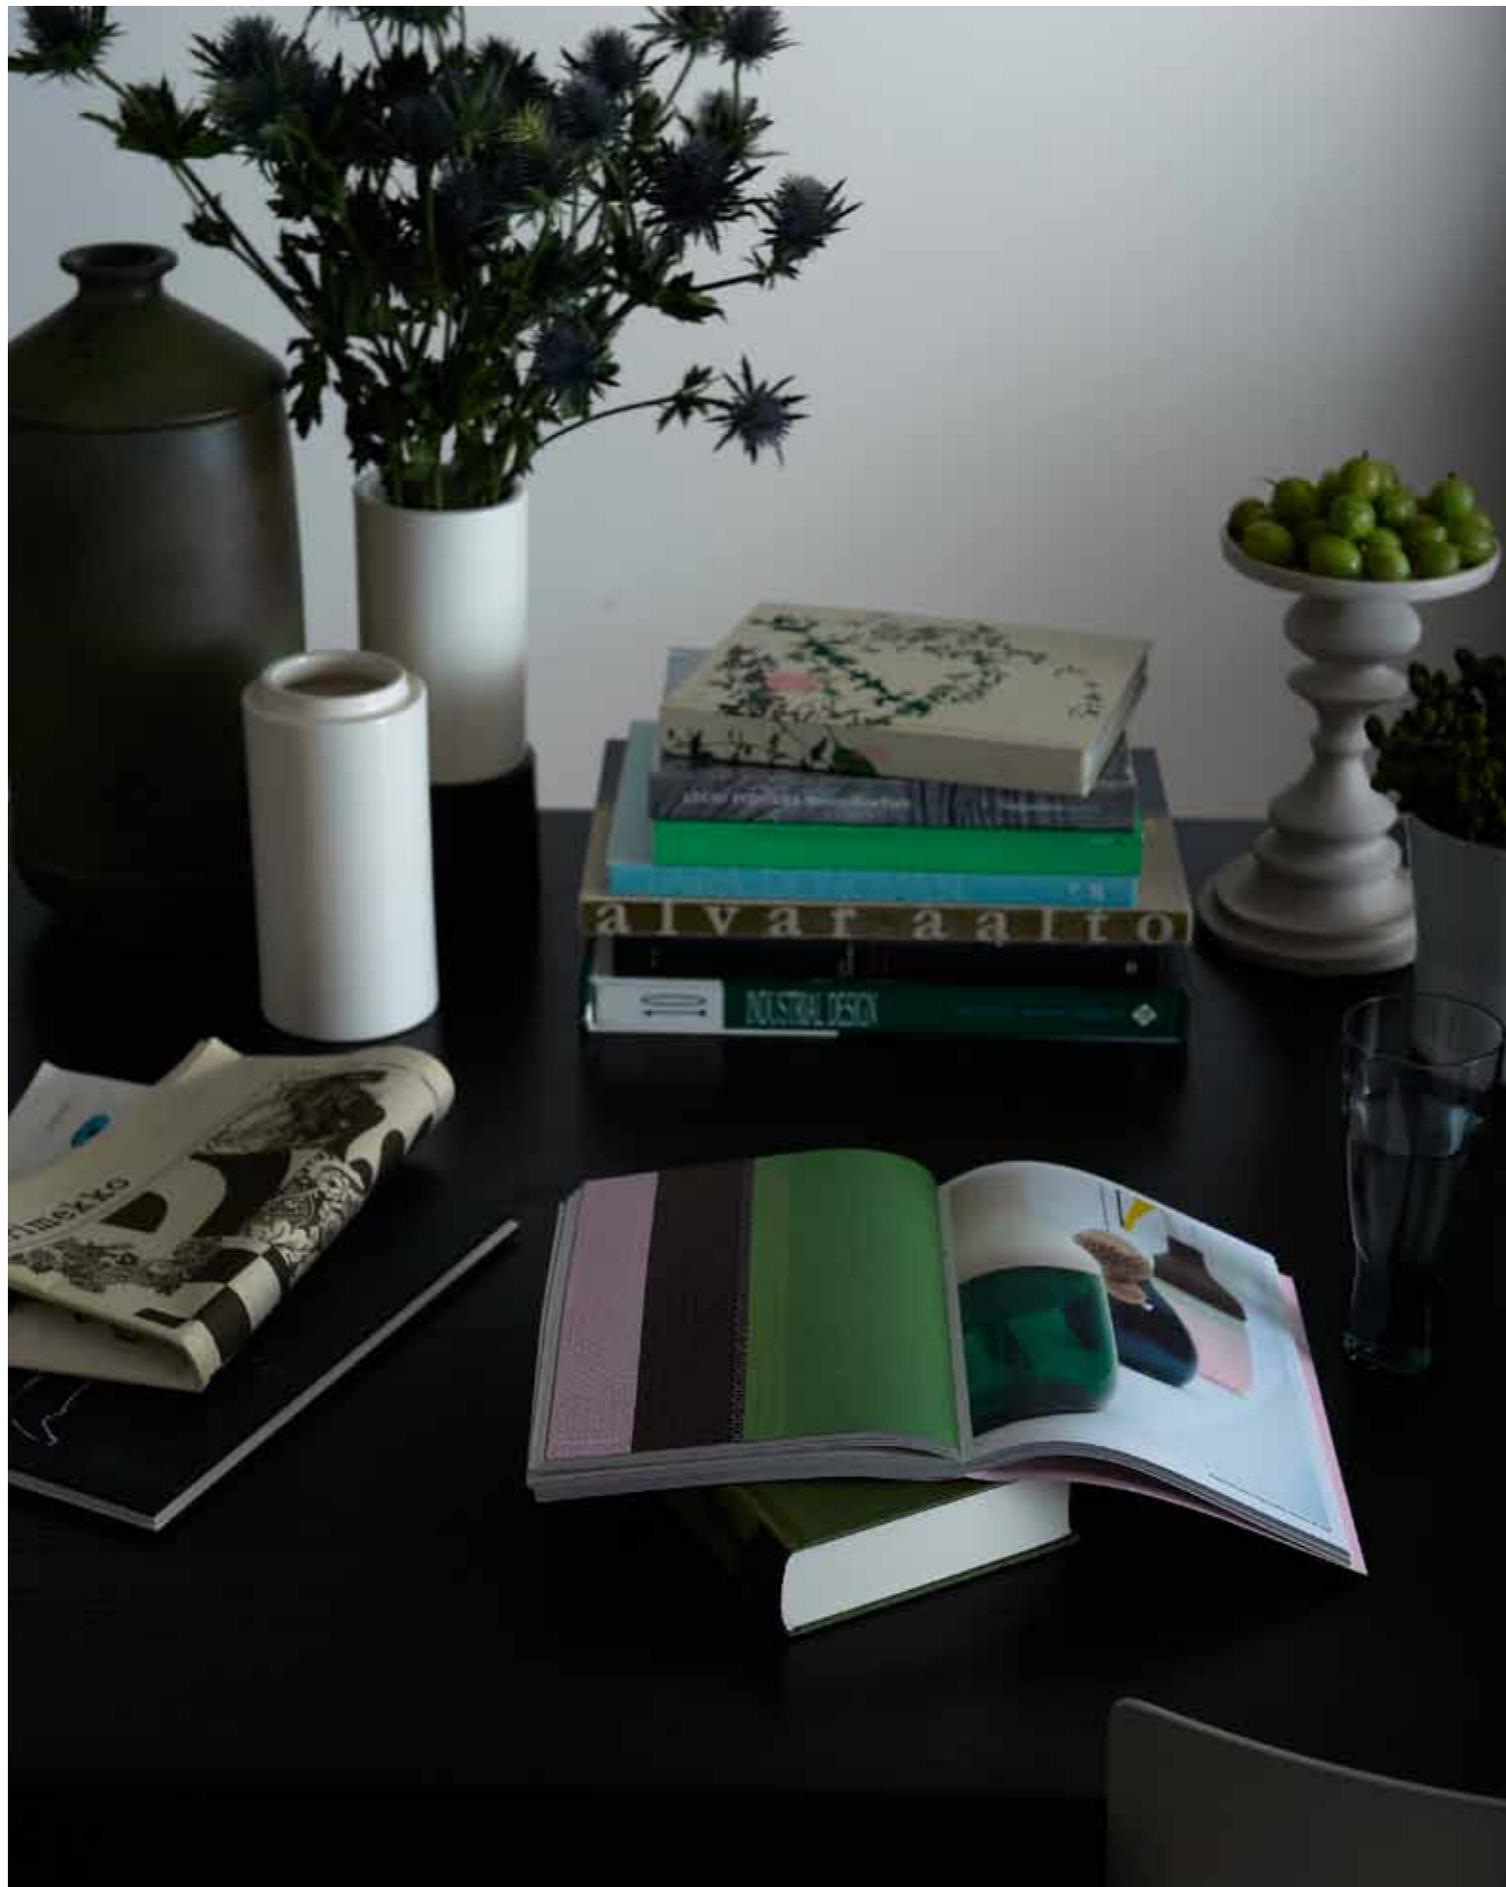

The grand façade and spectacular stretched spiral staircase leave you in no doubt this is a Rob Mills design. Yet the bold flourishes found in the grand contemporary homes created by this visionary architect are tempered by the restrained elegance of Church Street Hill's air-filled interiors.

Sliding walls, simple palettes and walls of glass that open onto leafy terraces create interiors that leave you instantly at ease. Honest, light and bright, they fuse luxury with pragmatism, inviting you to dress them in your own inimitable style.

COSMOPOLITAN CHARM

Church Street, Brighton, is a village like no other: vibrant, alive and cosmopolitan. It's one of Melbourne's most exclusive locations and it's on your doorstep.

Enjoy fine dining, exquisite coffee, boutique shopping and arthouse films without leaving your street. Or wander just a little further and embrace bayside living: the beach, the marina, the foreshore walks — all within easy striking distance of Melbourne's unmatched CBD.

HOME BASE

As uncomplicated as they are stylish, Church Street Hill's apartments are tranquil urban sanctuaries for those who appreciate life on the road as much as the comfort of home.

Head to your weekender without worry. Or entertain indoors and out with sun-filled open plan living and dining areas that flow seamlessly into the terraces beyond.

BPM

Bayside's leading boutique property developer with an unparalleled track record stretching back 15 years. BPM has grown from founder Jonathan Hallinan's initial spark to become the driving force behind many of the most spectacular new apartments and townhouses in Brighton and its surrounding suburbs.

Emboldened by partnerships with many of Australia's leading contemporary architects and designers, BPM's portfolio goes from strength to strength, enhanced by Jonathan's unquenchable passion for delivering only the very best in a market he knows better than anyone.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

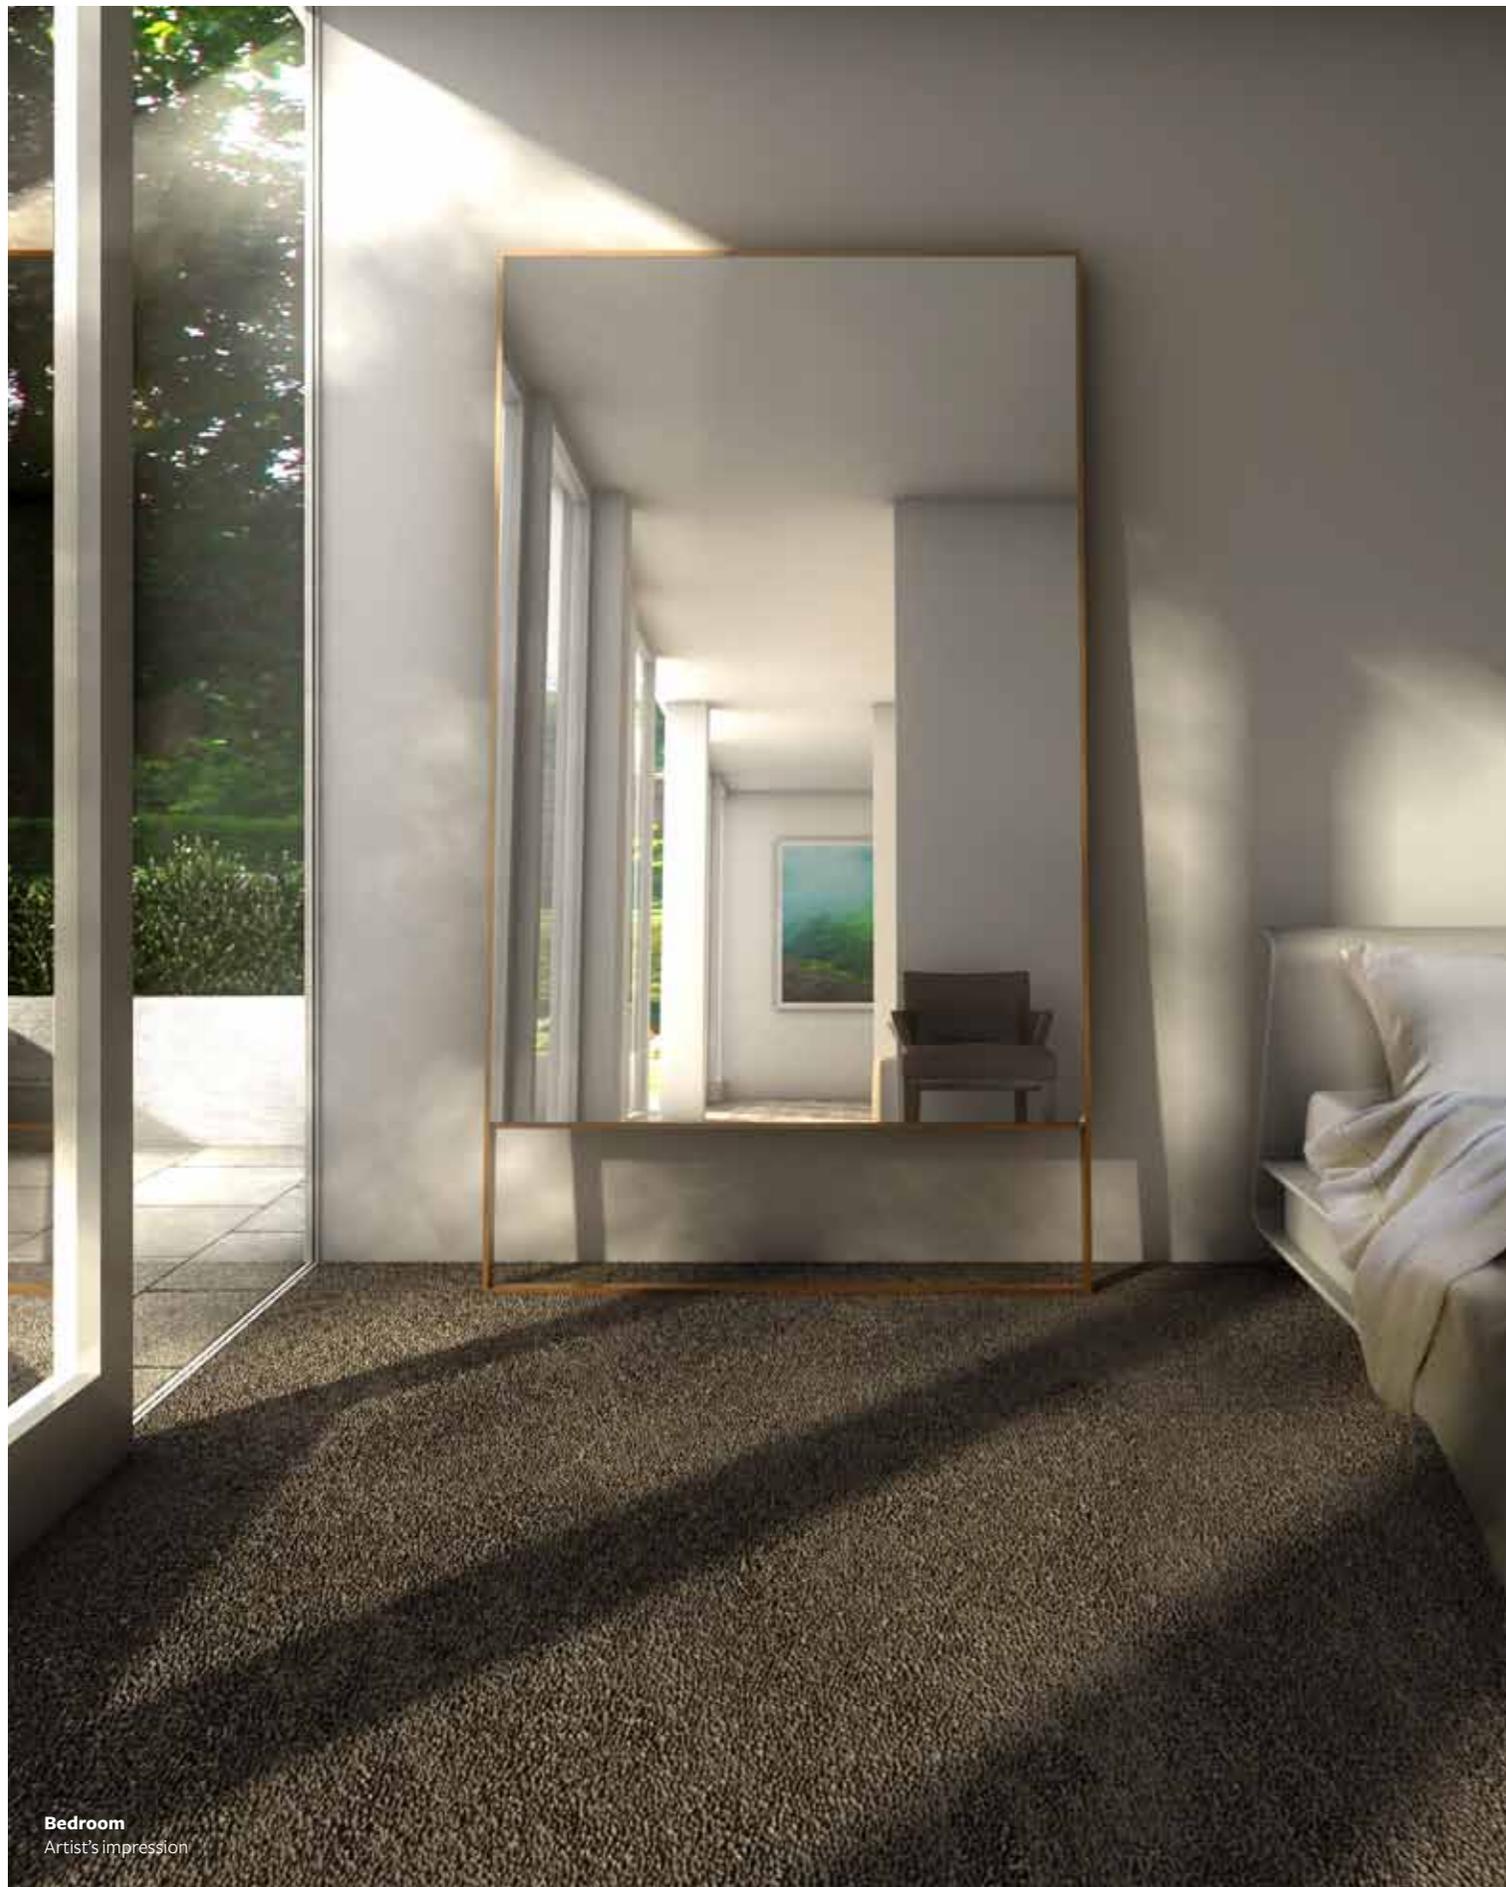

It's always exciting to watch a new project coming to fruition, especially one as fresh and alive as Church Street Hill.

I enjoy working with Rob Mills and Jack Merlo and together we've created homes that offer people a truly affordable slice of the luxury for which they are known.

There's a beautiful simplicity to the designs here, both inside and out, that gives buyers the chance to put their own stamp on their home. At the same time, the apartments are decorated with unique elements you wouldn't get from any other architect.

In all honesty, however, we couldn't have set out to achieve anything less at this location. BPM is lucky enough to have developed homes on some of the best addresses in Melbourne and here — on Church Street and so close to the buzz of the village — is as good as it gets.

URBAN IDYLL

Ideal homes unite architecture and landscape in perfect harmony. At Church Street Hill, the partnership between leading Melbourne landscape designer Jack Merlo and Rob Mills Architects captures that harmony with ease.

Buildings and windows are framed by luscious greenery. Walls of glass invite the gardens and leafy surrounds inside. Soft, warm and simple palettes make the boundaries between lounge and terrace dissolve.
